Schools Must Hire Specialists

Schools over the state have been asked to submit applications by May 15 to participate in the new drug education program created by the 1973 state legislature, according to officials of the State Department of Education.

Dr. Garvin Johnston of Jackson, state superintendent of education, said that information about the program was sent recently to all school superintendents in the state.

Earlier this year the legislature provided nearly $2 million to train and hire drug education specialists in school districts over the state.

The legislature assigned total responsibility for the administration of the new program—including the money appropriated for it—to the State Department of Education.

State Senator Nap Cassibry of Harrison County, one of the stronger supporters of the program, said, "Mississippi's new drug education program is the first of its type in the nation. The legislature's initial appropriation of $1,941,215 enables schools to begin an organized, effective course of instruction in this critical area."

Hiring full-time drug education specialists in schools will expand the drug education activities that have been conducted over the state in recent years.

Since 1970 the State Department of Education has been sponsoring drug abuse education workshops over the state. Some 4,000 people, including educators, parents and students have attended these workshops.

The State Department of Education is responsible for assisting school districts in developing, administering and evaluating the new drug education programs. The department and the Governor's Office of Education and Training share responsibilities for developing a drug education curriculum and training the drug specialists.

A two-week training session for those selected by school districts to serve as drug education specialists is set for July 23-August 3, at a site to be determined.

SELECTION IMPORTANT

Dr. Ralph Brewer, director of the Division of Instruction, State Department of Education, said the new law specifies that those trained as drug education specialists shall not be used in any other job in the school system.

Brewer added, "If school district officials decide that they can't use a full-time drug specialist, they may wish to share a specialist with a neighboring district. Then an additional specialist could be assigned to more heavily populated areas of the state."

Dr. James Parkman, supervisor of alcohol and narcotics education for the State Department of Education, said the new program "can be highly effective in reducing drug abuse."

Parkman said the degree of effectiveness could depend on the people selected as drug education specialists in local schools.

Large Marijuana Haul Confiscated

What is believed to be the largest single narcotics haul in Hancock County was confiscated by Sheriff Sylvan Ladner and deputies Monday following the arrest of three persons on Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis.

Stopped initially for reckless driving on the highway were Steve Johnson, 24-year-old operator of the Far Inn in Pass Christian, Rebecca D. Campbell, 21, and William Pursley, 19. Special agent Ronald Peterson said the automobile the trio was riding in was weaving back and forth on the highway constituting a traffic hazard.

Further investigation of the car revealed a small quantity of marijuana and cigarette papers. Johnson refused to open the trunk of the car, Peterson reported, so the three were taken to county jail and booked for possession of a controlled substance, to-wit marijuana, with intent to deliver and possession of paraphernalia.

Additional charges were brought against Johnson for reckless driving and no driver's license. All three were released under $1,000 bond each.

Acting under a search warrant later in the evening, the sheriff and assisting deputies discovered 17 lids, or bags, and three kilos of cured marijuana and a box of cigarette papers in the trunk of the impounded car. Quantity of the marijuana was estimated at about three ounces in each bag and two and a half pounds in each kilo.

Sheriff Ladner said the approximately six pounds of marijuana was the largest single haul ever made in the county.

Following the discovery, felony warrants were issued for the arrest of Johnson, Pursley and Miss Campbell, under $15,000 bonds each. Harrison County authorities were notified and the three returned voluntarily to Bay St. Louis Tuesday evening after having the bonds reduced to $3,000 in Gulfport by Circuit Judge Floyd Logan.

A preliminary hearing has been scheduled for Monday night before Justice of the Peace Donald Carr.

All three gave Pass Christian addresses, although Pursley is a former Bay St. Louis resident.

LOTS OF LIDS of marijuana, estimated by local authorities as totaling six pounds, is displayed at the sheriff's office. The 17 lids, three kilos (bricks) and a box of papers were confiscated when Hancock agents arrested a Pass Christian man and woman and a Bay St. Louis youth Monday as they were driving on Highway 90. The haul is believed to be the largest yet in a single arrest in the county.

Jaycees To Hold Honey Sunday

Jaycees throughout Mississippi will be participating in an unusual project for the benefit of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

It's "Mississippi Honey Sunday", April 29 and features the sale of honey.

The Bay St. Louis Jaycees have named Bobby Adams as local chairman and Albert Biehl III as co-chairman.

Raymond Thomas, president of the Bay St. Louis Jaycees said that "Everybody can use the eight-ounce containers of honey that will be sold, and it's a 'sweet way' to express your concern for thousands of mentally ill and mentally retarded children in Mississippi who cannot speak for themselves."

All net proceeds from Honey Sunday will go to funding the Jaycee Evaluation Center, Ellisville State School.

Bosworth Absent Arguments Erupt Over Bayside Park

by Adoree Shortle

Echo staff writer

Hancock County sheriff's deputies were called into a meeting Tuesday night at the county courthouse when several verbal confrontations between Bayside Park residents and county supervisors threatened to become physical.

The Tuesday meeting was set during an April 16 board meeting when irate Bayside Park residents had appeared before supervisors with an ultimatum for immediate action on impassable roads in the subdivision. At that time, supervisors by a four-to-one vote adopted a resolution providing temporary county repairs to the unpaved roads in question until all principals involved could meet with the developer, William Bosworth, Jr. to determine who in fact was liable for maintenance of the roads.

Besides Bosworth or his attorney, Board Attorney Ruble Griffin and District Attorney Albert Nescare were also requested to attend the meeting Tuesday night for legal counsel.

Set for 7:30 p.m., the meeting was delayed for more than 30 minutes as about 40 Bayside Park residents and the five supervisors waited in vain for Bosworth and the attorneys. Beat One Supervisor Jerry Ladner, in whose beat the subdivision is located, finally opened the meeting by announcing that Bosworth was not coming as he allegedly had received the notice too late nor would any of the attorneys be there.

As Ladner began to explain the ramifications of past board actions concerning county maintenance on the controversial roads, Beat Five Supervisor James Travirca dropped a bombshell by the announcement that the district attorney had ruled the temporary repair resolution invalid as county equipment cannot be used on private property. The roads in question have not been accepted by the county, Travirca explained, therefore are still the property and responsibility of the developer.

At this point subdivision residents became increasingly vociferous and voices rose in volume as questions and accusations were fired at Ladner.

Roy Baxter, president of the County Planning Commission, explained that the county only adopted subdivision regulations in 1967 and residential developers prior to that time were allowed to operate completely unregulated. Development of Bayside Park started in the early 1960's when lots were selling for $150 each at one dollar down and $5 a month payments.

Baxter said, "I am very sympathetic to these people but I don't see how the present board can be held responsible for what was done, or not done, before 1967."

Joseph Richardson, a local businessman who said he bought property in Bayside Park two weeks ago, then asked if it were possible to get a court injunction against Bosworth to force him to appear and answer charges at a future meeting.

Although he had earlier expressed a reluctance to get actively involved in the affair, Board President Alton Kellar told the by now incensed property owners that a search would be made of records "to see if a subdivision plat had been filed prior to 1967."

Coordinator Comments On Gollotte Dismissal

"I am shocked and upset—but I won't quit," Mrs. Eve McDonald, coordinator of Hancock County's Area-wide Model Project for Older Americans, told The Sea Coast Echo Tuesday following last week's firing of Mrs. Gwen Gollotte, Coast coordinator of the AMPOA.

Les Newcomb, director of the Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District which administers the program from Hattiesburg, announced the firing of both Mrs. Gollotte and her assistant, Mrs. Kathleen Dunnaway, claiming that although Mrs. Gollotte "got along well with everyone, she was not a good administrator."

Expressing disappointment over Mrs. Gollotte's dismissal, Mrs. McDonald said however, that she would not quit the program over Newcomb's action because "my primary purpose is to serve the senior citizens—those whom we care for."

"I find it confusing that Mr. Newcomb said that Mrs. Gollotte does not have administrative ability when we are considered by many to have the number one Area-wide Model Project in the nation," Mrs. McDonald continued.

In addition to Mrs. Gollotte's firing, Mrs. McDonald discussed proposed changes made by Newcomb for next year's program. These would include district-wide food and transportation services on a contractual basis.

"Although our Meals on Wheels program is now being handled by the hospital, Mr. Newcomb suggests that we contract with an organization outside of Hancock County. Additionally, plans are now being made to charge our senior citizens a fare on their bus which is owned and already paid for by the program," Mrs. McDonald emphasized.

Worried that if some of the plans are implemented, the local program will lose its personal touch, Mrs. McDonald urged the local supervisors and city officials to carefully study the changes before the contract is to be renewed with the Planning District May 31.

"Mr. Newcomb has also offered more money and less work—this can only hurt the program," she added.

Mrs. McDonald has been local coordinator since the program's inception in March, 1972. AMP presently serves 740 senior citizens in the food, recreation, transportation, health and home-care areas. The program also operates two centers, in Bay St. Louis and Pearlinton. One is also planned for the Kiln.

Names to replace Mrs. Gollotte is Mrs. Jane Kennedy of Biloxi. Mrs. Nap Cassibry will serve as assistant.

"The program has worked so well up to now, I don't see how these changes can benefit senior citizens—I can only see the possibility of reduction in services," Mrs. McDonald concluded.

SCHEDULE CHANGES

Greyhound bus schedules will reflect extensive changes, effective April 29, according to Bay St. Louis agent William Little, as well as the addition of several through express runs now stopping in Bay St. Louis.

Local patrons are asked to check with the bus station for further information until next week when the revised schedule will be published in the Echo.

BLOOD DONATED

John Rutherford Jr., chairman of the Hancock County Blood Bank announced that 182 units of blood were donated at last week's emergency blood drawing.

"I would like to thank all who helped us in this drawing, particularly the 180 volunteers who came to donate blood," Rutherford said.

Honor Roll

Brother Lee Barker, S.C., principal of St. Stanislaus High School, has announced that thirty-five students have been named to the President's Honor Roll at St. Stanislaus. To achieve this honor a student must be on the Alpha Honor Roll (3.5 average or better) for three consecutive marking periods during the school year.

Students on the high school level meriting this award are the following: Alvin Arramburo, Mac Hadden, Murray Keel, Rick Kerguelen, Michael Lesiere, James Pileand, Brad Williams, Herman Johnson, Walter Morris, Michael Keel, Robert Stoen, Roger Tractio, Bayne Dickinson, Themed.

All students meriting the President's Honor Roll will be recognized at a future student assembly and awarded a school jacket with a lamp of learning letter.

41 Arrests Made In TIP Program

Earl Riley, Executive Director of the Mississippi Coast Crime Commission, announced that the TIP (Turn In A Pusher) Program, co-sponsored by the seven Coast Chambers of Commerce, has received 1180 valid "tips" since the inception of the program on November 19, 1971.

According to Riley, there have been 182 arrests of individuals on whom tip calls had been received, 41 arrests since February 1, 1972.

Reward money totaling $1,826.00 has been paid out to date for "tips" resulting in the conviction of pushers, noted Riley. The evaluation and payment of other rewards are presently under consideration.

"The Tip Program", according to Riley, "continues to play a significant supporting role to law enforcement agencies in Hancock, Harrison, and Jackson Counties. Tip is an aid to law enforcement bringing to narcotics investigators confidential information from concerned citizens they may not have been able to secure through official sources."

"The recognition of the drug abuse problem here on the Mississippi Gulf Coast by private citizens, law enforcement agencies and the courts is highly commendable, and it is this character of complete cooperation and coordination which has focused broad public attention on our approach to this problem. This 'no nonsense' coordinated attack has resulted in our making history in this State with three massive raids against drug users and pushers in 1972 and 1973.

"The Mississippi Coast Crime Commission and the seven co-sponsoring Chambers of Commerce", said Riley, "are deeply grateful for the financial and moral support given this program by individuals, religious and service organizations, and the business community. It is necessary that this support continue in order that our law enforcement agencies may continue to make positive inroads into the illegal narcotic trade."

In Jackson County the Tip Line is 478-3104; in Hancock County 467-3401; and in Harrison County 863-3401.

Hearing Set Tonight On Hospitality Booth

The Mississippi Highway Department will hold a public hearing tonight at 7 at the Hancock County Courthouse to discuss the proposed location and design of the hospitality station on Interstate 10 in Hancock County.

The highway department has announced its intention to place the station between Highways 607 and 603. However, the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce has been fighting that location and at a board meeting Tuesday night voted to ask that the station be placed in Louisiana, west of Highway 607.

"We are trying to protect the merchants and businessmen on Highway 90 between 607 and 603 and to offer motorists a four-lane Gulf Coast route to Mobile rather than using 603 which is a two-lane road," explained E. J.

Marengo, president of the Chamber.

The proposed facilities will provide the traveling public with tourist information, restrooms, telephones, picnic grounds, nature trails and a sanitary waste dump for travel trailers.

"Anyone who is really interested in saving our Highway 90 business should make it THEIR business to be at the meeting," Marengo said.

Council Accepts Academy Plans

Proposed construction plans for Our Lady's Academy in Bay St. Louis were accepted by the city commission council at a recessed meeting Monday morning.

The action came upon recommendation of the city planning and zoning commission.

Attorney Michael Haas presented the plans to the council and explained that two buildings were included in the program and he wanted the council's approval before going ahead on the project.

In other business, the council: —Agreed to accept a bid from Turan-Lane Chevrolet of Bay St. Louis for purchase of a dump stake body for the city's sanitation department.

—Accepted bids from Jack Cooke, Inc., and Moosa Equipment Co. for purchase of fire department equipment.

—Voted to allow the Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary to use a portion of the Webb Center for its Summer Fun House program.

BOAT REGISTRATION

Boat owners are reminded by the Mississippi Boat and Water Safety Commission that boat registrations will expire June 30 and must be renewed on or before that time at the tax collector's office in the county where the boat is usually moored, docked, housed or garaged.

At the present time, the Mississippi Boating Act (section 6496-03) requires that all vessels powered by more than 10 HP must be registered. However, the New Federal Boat Safety Act has set mandatory national guidelines that will require all boats equipped with propulsion machinery of any type to be numbered by July 1, 1974.

The fee for numbering is $2.25 and is valid for a two year period from July 1, 1973 through June 30, 1975. All numbers not renewed within one year from date of expiration will be cancelled.

MAYORAL PROCLAMATION
On the occasion of the 16th annual nationwide observance of Law Day U.S.A. on May 1, it is fitting that the citizens of this city reflect on the meaning and value of our Law and Courts to a democratic society.
The Congress of the United States and the President, by proclamation, have set aside May first, Tuesday, as a special day of celebration by the American people "in appreciation of their liberties."
Our country has prospered for nearly 200 years with constantly expanding liberty because our common Law tradition provides for gradual, orderly and peaceful change in our institutions.
It is to the courts that the individual citizen goes to seek redress and secure justice, not as a matter of privilege but as a matter of right.
Our courts were created and exist, not only to determine according to law disputes between individuals, but also to determine according to law disagreements between the individual and his government.
The observance of Law Day is fitting because it underscores the continuing role of the law and the courts in achieving equitable solutions to on-going problems, including racism, poverty, environmental pollution, consumer rights and many other issues of public concern and import.
It is good to be reminded each year that the Law can be relevant and progressive.
NOW, THEREFORE, I Warren Carver, Mayor of Bay St. Louis, do hereby join in proclaiming Tuesday, May 1, 1973 as Law Day U.S.A. in this community and urge all citizens, organizations and schools to give appropriate recognition to this special day.
Dated at the City of Bay St. Louis this 23 day of April 1973.

Thriffley Chosen Outstanding Educator

The Bay St. Louis Jaycees have announced that James C. Thriffley, III is the recipient of this year's award as Outstanding Young Educator.
Thriffley, a teacher of physics and math at St. Stanislaus, is 28 years old and resides with his wife Jean and their two children, James and Todd, in Bay St. Louis. He graduated from St. Aloysius High School in New Orleans in 1962 and went on to receive degrees from Southeastern Louisiana University, Loyola University and the University of Southern Mississippi.

ENERGY CRISIS?

the L&N hauls more freight more efficiently and with less fuel consumption!

The L&N is responsive to the needs of your community and to coming generations of American men and women.
THE ENERGY CRISIS
Today's energy crisis points out a dwindling supply of fossil fuels. More efficient use of these critical fuels for the movement of freight from city to city, is one essential way the L&N and other railroads really help.
ESSENTIAL FACTS
When comparing energy requirements for the movement of inter-city freight, modern efficient diesel locomotives require about 1/4 the energy of heavy duty diesel trucks, per ton/mile.

FUEL-SAVING EFFICIENCY
At the L&N, we know something must be done to conserve fuel and to get the most work/energy from every gallon. We are doing our part by maintaining our diesel engines to assure maximum efficiency. We've installed new equipment and facilities to eliminate surplus oil leakage. We move millions of tons of freight with new advanced techniques that achieve fuel saving economies. Of course, there's more we can do and we are working on it.

Let's work together to help conserve precious energy for present and future generations to enjoy.

Chamber Report

By Sylvia McComiskey
Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Manager

REMINDER: The Highway Department's Public Hearing for the location of the Hospitality Booth for Hancock County on Interstate 10 will be held Thursday night at 7 p.m. at the Hancock County Courthouse. Attend this hearing and let us all support the location West of Highway 607. This is important to our County's future.

The Chamber welcomes the recent Membership Renewals for 1973 of the following: Anthony's - Bay St. Louis - Anthony Lolacano representative and The Credit Bureau, Inc. - J.T. Goble representative.

New Membership received recently includes: Hargett Construction Company - Waveland - Robert L. Hargett representative and William Tate, III - Bay St. Louis - individual.

The Easter Sunrise Service sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce was well attended. Over 100 persons arrived before 5:30 a.m. and the service was beautiful. We thank everyone who participated.

The Chamber regrettably accepted the resignation of Nanci Campbell as a director of the Chamber Board, since her new position with United Press International will necessitate residence in Jackson, Mississippi. She has been an energetic director and we regret her loss. By closed ballot, the board elected Jeannette Monti to replace Miss Campbell on the Board, effective immediately. We welcome Miss Monti and look forward to her participation in Board functions.

An All-American "male" Beauty Pageant will be held at St. Joseph

Social Security Information

Walter H. Hobbs District Manager in Gulfport reports that a collection agency in Atlanta is using a procedure involving social security numbers to contact individuals who may be involved in a credit or billing dispute.

According to Mr. Hobbs, the scheme works like this: A person receives a post card with the following message, "If your social security number is not please contact at 404-(Atlanta phone no.) immediately." When the unsuspecting person calls the number, at his/her own expense, he is subjected to a spiel involving a credit or billing dispute.

People who respond to the post card do so because they feel the card is from a government agency. Since the social security number is incorrect, they call and give their correct number. Mr. Hobbs points out that the post card has nothing to do with social security benefits or records. Recipients of the card are under no obligation to respond to the dubious request by the collection agency.

Auditorium Friday, April 27 at 8:15 p.m. Admission will be $2.00 adults, $1.00 students. This event is sponsored by the American Cancer Society and the proceeds will be used to fund this agency's work. Attend and support the American Cancer Society.

VA Report

According to Chester L. Carvey, Veterans Service Officer for Hancock County, thousands of wives and children of veterans and servicemen are failing to take advantage of benefits and programs provided by Congress, despite intensive efforts by VA to inform each beneficiary.

Educational benefits for wives, widows, and children of veterans whose total permanent disabilities, or deaths, were service-connected was cited by VA officials as one example of the many benefits available. Also eligible for educational benefits are wives and children of servicemen missing in action (MIA) or prisoners of war (POW) for more than 90 days. VA loans are available to wives of POW's and MIAs and to unmarried widows of veterans and servicemen whose deaths were service-connected.

Dependency and Indemnity Compensation (DIC) is paid by VA to widows and children if the veteran's death was service-connected. Pension is paid if death was non-service-connected. In certain cases, parents may be eligible for DIC checks. Still another benefit, and additional monthly aid and attendance payment of $56 is paid to eligible wives, widows, and parents who are patients in nursing homes, helpless or blind, or so nearly helpless or blind that regular assistance from another person is required.

Most VA benefits for dependents and survivors of veterans are based on at least 90 days of military service. For post-Korea and Vietnam Era veterans, at least 181 days in service is required for GI home loans and educational benefits entitlement.

Contact your service officer at 467-5404 for information on your Veterans Benefits.

National Press Praises Civil Defense Director

Lucien Kidd, director, Hancock County Civil Defense, has been described in the national press as "...a very rare man in Mississippi."

This pronouncement of worth, from the pen of Robert C. Maynard of the Washington Post, came hot on the heels of a letter of commendation received by Kidd from John E. Davis, National civil defense director, Office of the Chief of Staff, Department of the Army, Washington, D.C.

Maynard's article on the local CD chief was based on a tour made by member of the Scripps-Howard Newspapers chain during the senate subcommittee hearings recently in Biloxi.

The article told of Kidd's pride in his community, devotion to duty, and sadness over the loss of life brought about by Hurricane Camille.

In contrast to some reports originating from across the Coast, Maynard said Kidd treated everybody the same, he they colored or white, and tried as far as was humanly possible to bring disaster relief to every affected family.

"The evidence of three days of hearings," said Maynard of the senate subcommittee on disaster relief, "the evidence of five months after a storm here, and the evidence of a trip through the twisted, troubled roads is that Lucien Kidd is a very rare man in Mississippi."

In his letter of commendation Davis says that "In any disaster of the magnitude of Hurricane Camille, there are many persons who perform above and beyond what might reasonably have been expected of them. But even among this elite group, there are few who stand out. I consider you one of those men."

He attended both St. Stanislaus College and Bay High School and was later graduate from Parkinson Agricultural High School and Parkinson Junior College. He attended Louisiana State University leaving to enlist in the United States Air Force where he served as a power turret and gun-sight specialist with the rank of technical sergeant. While so engaged he was sent overseas and took part in operations over Germany during WW II.

Since World War II he was district manager for the American Brewery Co.; later the Atlantic Brewing Co., and later was the Regal Beer distributor for the three coast counties.

A past commander of the American Legion, he was district commander in 1966, and subsequently Chief DeGard of the 40th & 61st Coast Unit.

A member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Knights of Columbus, he is married to the former Beryl Jean Fitch of Colchester, England. He is the father of two sons and four daughters and resides with his family at 107 Necaise Ave., Bay St. Louis.

His daughter Geraldine is married to local physician Dr. John D. Rutherford and his son William is warehouse manager National Supply Company, New Orleans.

Connie McCain looks like the typical all-American girl--fresh-faced and flaxen-haired, a high school cheerleader and basketball star, healthy and with an outgoing personality. All of which she is.

She does not look like a person who has dealt with death and near death, and the day by day responsibility of helping to keep ill people breathing.

That she is, too. Connie is an inhalation therapist at Hancock General Hospital, the newest of the county hospital's advanced technical services. Just 19 and less than a year out of high school, Connie is the same age as the field she has chosen.

Inhalation therapy, or respiratory therapy as it is now termed, is less than 20 years old as a specialized medical field. An outgrowth of services by anesthesiologists (the former is a technician, the latter a physician specializing in anesthetics), respiratory therapy has become considerably more technical in the last 10 years, Connie said, resulting in more stringent requirements demanded of those entering the field.

After graduation from high school, an aspiring therapist may either spend a year at a college offering special academic training in the field followed by a year of internship under an anesthesiologist, or two years internship working under an anesthesiologist or registered therapist, as Connie is doing.

On completion of the two-year training period, the intern must pass rigorous written and oral examinations for certification as a respiratory therapist, which is a preclusion to state registration. It is not now a state requirement that an inhalation therapist be either certified or registered, however, Connie said, "They're working hard on it," referring to those factions promoting legislation which will demand college training and ultimate registration to raise the standards of the field.

Nearing her first year of internship, Connie began her training at Greenwood (Miss.) Hospital with six weeks of specialized training, then moved to Indianola for four months additional training at Sunflower County Hospital.

Her next move was to Gulfport and the end of last year where as an intern she joined a firm of respiratory specialists which provides pulmonary services under contract to hospitals throughout Southern Mississippi. Connie was assigned on a full-time basis to Hancock General in February.

Respiratory therapy is the treatment and sometimes diagnosis of chronic respiratory diseases, centering around heart and lung malfunctions. Diseases most INHALATION THERAPIST Connie McCain, right, administers an IPPB treatment to Hancock General Hospital patient Mrs. Lula M. Jones. encountered include emphysema, serious asthma, pneumonia, bronchitis and those who are referred to in the field as "chronic lungers", persons suffering from continuing lung malfunctions.

Connie uses a number of specially designed machines in treating the various respiratory ailments. One particular machine is employed for pulmonary functions, which is measuring the capacity of air in an individual's lungs.

Something called an IPPB treatment is performed on post-operative patients to exercise and therefore clear the lungs of mucus for the prevention of pneumonia, as well as given to patients suffering from emphysema and chronic bronchitis.

With another machine, Connie can administer an ultrasonic treatment which induces microscopic nebulization particles (medication) into the deepest section of the lung; she sets up oxygen tents and something she referred to as O2 nasal cannulas as well.

The therapist is also qualified to put a patient on a respirator, a machine which literally breathes for the patient. At HGH patients can be left on the machine only for a limited time, Connie explained, as the system is so highly technical that if a proper delicate balance is not maintained a fatality can result. To keep a seriously ill patient on the respirator for an indefinite time requires a special blood gas analysis machine, which is prohibitively expensive, she stated. There are respirators at HGH but a blood gas machine is available only from Gulfport.

The great value of a respirator is realized when, on occasion a patient has actually died, he has been revived through immediate and expert application of the machine.

Mr. Walter Damiens of Bay St. Louis was in need of a new car. The last car he bought was from Fritz Peranich at Turan-Lane Chevrolet and he was well pleased with the way he was treated by everyone. Again he visited Turan-Lane Chevrolet and talked to Fritz who gave him a very good deal on a Chevy Vega. Salesman Fritz Peranich has been selling new cars in Bay St. Louis for many years and his customers keep coming back for they know that he will treat them right.

WHY

I WANT TO SERVE YOU, the people of Bay St. Louis, as Commissioner Post 2 and help solve some of the many problems facing our community.

Bay St. Louis has failed to grow and prosper in recent years. Hurricane Camille dealt a serious blow to our fair city. But we must not blame Camille for all of our problems.

Our streets and roads are in terrible shape causing severe problems for local residents and tourists as well. With each rain storm we feel the effects of our inadequate drainage system. Downtown Bay St. Louis has rapidly declined in recent years, with more and more businesses relocating on the Highway.

The promises made to the residents of the annexed areas of the city have not been fulfilled. Their increased taxes seem to have bought only politicians' promises rather than much needed services. This is surely not fair.

It is time we do something to solve our many problems. We need young, new progressive leadership. Help elect me YOUR Commissioner, and I will do all that I can to provide that leadership.

TOGETHER WE CAN BUILD Bay St. Louis into the type of community that we can be truly proud to call home -- a community that can grow and prosper -- a fine community in which to live and work.

ARGUMENTS ERUPT...

If one had, Kellar stated, "We will have another meeting and we'll see that you people get some relief, because something has to be done. At least, that is the opinion of four members of this board."

Ladner hotly contested the decision and the meeting got completely out of control again. The cavernous court room vibrated with the sound of verbal skirmishes between property owners and Kellar, Ladner and the other supervisors.

Deputies were called in when two men, shouting and gesticulating in anger, nearly came to blows with Ladner.

A suggestion that residents through legal counsel bring a court injunction against the county demanding repossession of the entire subdivision brought a quick retort from a woman who said she had been fighting the Bayside Park roads since 1969.

"We're working on that," she said, "but we went out of the county to get a lawyer, because the attorneys in this county are just like the roads in Bayside Park - crooked!"

The tumult stopped with the appearance of Robert Genin, an associate of Griffin. Genin told the gathering that the letter of notice from the attorney did not have the power of subpoena to force Bosworth to appear and that their only recourse would be through court order.

In answer to a question from Mrs. Doris Richard, Genin advised that the residents could resort to legal action to stop Bosworth from any future land sales in the subdivision, adding that "it shouldn't cost a lot of money, either."

The crowd listened quietly when Dallas Clark, addressing the supervisors and Genin said, "I am not here as a Park resident but as a taxpayer, because I feel that it's the county's obligation to protect its taxpayers' citizens by getting county attorneys to do these things, rather than the individuals who can't afford it!"

Clark's statement brought a burst of applause from other residents after which the meeting rapidly disintegrated into chaos.

Senior Citizens Happenings

Mrs. McDonald 467-9281

A happy Easter party was had by all Monday at the Senior Citizens Center. Honoree Hughes won a special Easter basket prize (kindly donated by Rosalee Allan) for finding the Golden Egg. Bea Favre and Rosa Antoine also won prizes - bunnies made by St. Clare's Sodality. Students from St. Rose de Lima school provided baskets for each table. A special musical program was given by the Valena C. Jones Methodist Church choir - Grace Palloade, Sarah Williams, Gwen Isiah, Edna Burrell, Amanda and Inez Robinson, and Juanita Thompson, pianist.

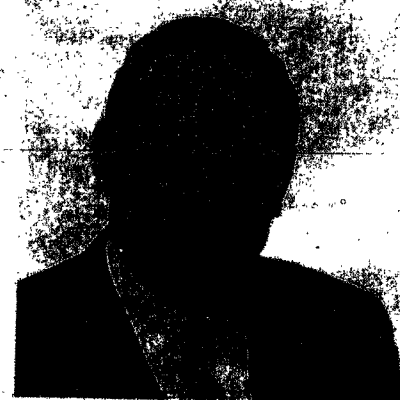

Along with the Easter festivities were two other celebrations - a birthday for Esther Cuevas and a 50th Wedding Anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moran. Everyone enjoyed the beautiful golden anniversary cake from the Moran family, as well as all the other special treats.

At the April meeting of the American Association of Retired Persons, Fred Horne reported on the AARP Workshop held recently in Jackson. The nation-wide AARP groups now include more than 5 million members, and workshops have been held recently to discuss national goals and ideas for making each program as effective as possible. Apparently the Bay-Waveland chapter is a pacesetter in Mississippi!

Some current AARP-sponsored activities include a weekly Spanish class taught by Ainsworth Kidd and a new Small Appliance Repair class taught by Hugh Miller. An all-day bus excursion to Gaudier Plantation is planned for Wednesday, May 23. Anyone needing information about the trip should call Gene Hathaway, Travel Chairman, or Margaret Keene at the Senior Citizens Center, 467-9281.

Fan setting: Operate as you like best. "Auto" gives better humidity control and economy. "On" gives more uniform air motion, sound-level and temperature.

Away from home: Set unit at 5° to 10° above normal setting with fan on "Auto" for mildew protection and quick comfort when you return.

Filters: Replace frequently. Clogged filters make unit work harder and cause higher operating costs.

Outdoor section: Keep clear of plants and obstructions.

Return air grill: Don't block air flow with furniture or drapes.

Windows and doors: Shut out heat from the sun with drapes or outside shading.

Insulation: Adequate insulation and proper attic ventilation will result in lower operating costs.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

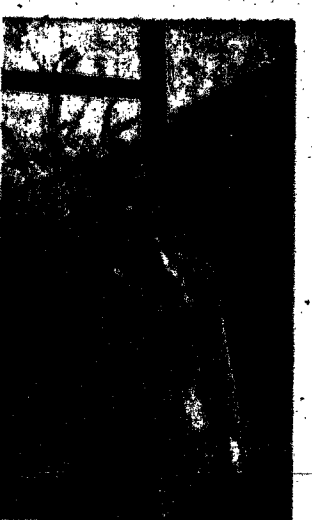

Most sportsmen stayed home with their families on Easter Sunday. However, there were some who did a little fishing mostly catching some perch with earthworms in the bayous, ponds and lakes because of the rivers having high and running tides due to the rains. As far as fresh water fishing is concerned it won't be long until fly fishing and casting will be good. Salt water fishing will also improve as the waters in local rivers and bayous get better. Frogging will come into its own when local lakes and ponds come back to normal. Frogging is best on low tides. There are a lot of local sports who enjoy catching frogs.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Prestenbach of Marrero, La., have been visiting their son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dormains of Waveland. Both couples love to fish. Mrs. Prestenbach loves perch fishing while Perry is one of the best frog catchers in Louisiana. He brings over frogs when they are in season and frog leg fries are numerous.

Learned another thing about frogs. Bull frogs are the biggest frogs. Prairie Frogs are not as large but are more delicious when it comes to eating, according to Percy Prestenbach.

H. Clinton Clark is another of our local fishermen. Clinton said he likes any kind of fishing as long as he can go. You are right, Clinton. He lives in Waveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Southerland of Houston, Texas have been visiting Mrs. Southerland's mother Mrs. Clarise Villere for a week. All three have just returned from

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK Roy Dedeaux, (Sleepy) as he is more effectively known to his friends, is and always has been a fisherman. He attended St. Stanislaus and participated in other sports.

Washington, D.C. where they attended the wedding of Mrs. Southerland's daughter Lance Corporal Deborah Ann Poolson of the U.S.M.C. to James Doyle Campbell of the U.S. Navy. They will be back this summer to enjoy fishing and other sports on the Gulf Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Cuculu and daughter spent the weekend with Mrs. Cuculu's brother, John Lang in Waveland. John does crabbing and fishing when conditions are right.

Robt. Henley III and Dugle Fricke have been catching their share of crayfish. It is another pastime when they are not fishing or hunting.

Leon Favre is out of the hospital and doing O.K. He said he will get back to fishing soon. John Scaffide and Joe McCollough have been catching some big perch lately. They were using popping bugs on the fly rod, they claimed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brasher of Waveland and the kids all love fishing. They have been doing pretty good catching them.

Understand there is a way to raise your own grasshoppers and crickets. They make excellent bait for perch and bass if you have never tried them. Used mostly when still fishing. Big roaches are on a par with them.

Dick Mestayer, Jr., and Allen are busy painting the sail boat they recently bought. Will do a lot of sailing this summer.

If you want to have a good time make arrangements to participate in the 4-Ball Golf Tournament on the weekend of May 26 and 27th to be held at Pass Christian Isles Golf Club. You may pick your own partner.

Final plans were made for the St. Stanislaus Sideline Fair to be held May 5 and 6 at S.S.C. The fair gets bigger and bigger each year. New games will be added for the enjoyment of both young and old. Attend and bring the family and in so doing you can help a worthy cause. The Sideline will be a busy bunch. Great prizes are to be awarded. Eat, drink and be merry.

Jack Nicklaus the greatest golfer did it again by winning his fourth victory in the Tournament of Champions. He beat Lee Trevino by a one stroke lead. It reminds us of the old saying, "Once a champion always a champion."

If one wants to live to a ripe old age, keep away from the old rocking chair; don't let it get you down. For something to do after retirement, go fishing, make your own fly baits and plugs. There are thousands of tackle stores where equipment and instructions can be secured for constructing baits of your own kind and which will catch fish.

Try making baits. It is a good pastime and a lot of fun. Catching fish on a home-made bait is something to be proud of. Ask those who make 'em.

Still can't give anything about anyone catching soft crabs. Was informed by some of our ardent soft crabbers, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Griffith of Waveland, Henry Land, Todd Thomas, John Scaffide, Jr., and others that the crabs are not giving. The reason, don't know, unless it is the weather conditions. There will still be time for soft crabbing. They like flounders, can be caught all summer.

Be a good sport. When seeing all wild animals, rabbits, deer, turkeys etc., stranded by high water, protect them. Give them a break, it will pay off later.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L. S. (Doc) Elliott

Most sportsmen stayed home with their families on Easter Sunday. However, there were some who did a little fishing mostly catching some perch with earthworms in the bayous, ponds and lakes because of the rivers having high and running tides due to the rains. As far as fresh water fishing is concerned it won't be long until fly fishing and casting will be good. Salt water fishing will also improve as the waters in local rivers and bayous get better. Frogging will come into its own when local lakes and ponds come back to normal. Frogging is best on low tides. There are a lot of local sports who enjoy catching frogs.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Prestenbach of Marrero, La., have been visiting their son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dormains of Waveland. Both couples love to fish. Mrs. Prestenbach loves perch fishing while Perry is one of the best frog catchers in Louisiana. He brings over frogs when they are in season and frog leg fries are numerous.

Learned another thing about frogs. Bull frogs are the biggest frogs. Prairie Frogs are not as large but are more delicious when it comes to eating, according to Percy Prestenbach.

H. Clinton Clark is another of our local fishermen. Clinton said he likes any kind of fishing as long as he can go. You are right, Clinton. He lives in Waveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Southerland of Houston, Texas have been visiting Mrs. Southerland's mother Mrs. Clarice Villere for a week. All three have just returned from

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK Roy Dedeaux, (Sleepy) as he is more effectively known to his friends, is and always has been a fisherman. He attended St. Stanislaus and participated in other sports.

Washington, D.C. where they attended the wedding of Mrs. Southerland's daughter Lance Corporal Deborah Ann Poolson of the U.S.M.C. to James Doyle Campbell of the U.S. Navy. They will be back this summer to enjoy fishing and other sports on the Gulf Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Cuculu and daughter spent the weekend with Mrs. Cuculu's brother, John Lang in Waveland. John does crabbing and fishing when conditions are right.

Robt. Henley III and Dugie Fricke have been catching their share of crayfish. It is another pastime when they are not fishing or hunting.

Leon Favre is out of the hospital and doing O.K. He said he will get back to fishing soon. John Scalfide and Joe McCullough have been catching some big perch lately. They were using popping bugs on the fly rod, they claimed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Braisher of Waveland and the kids all love fishing. They have been doing pretty good catching them.

Understand there is a way to raise your own grasshoppers and crickets. They make excellent bait for perch and bass if you have never tried them. Used mostly when still fishing. Big roaches are on a par with them.

Dick Mestayer, Jr., and Allen are busy painting the sail boat they recently bought. Will do a lot of sailing this summer.

If you want to have a good time make arrangements to participate in the 4-Ball Golf Tournament on the weekend of May 26 and 27th to be held at Pass Christian Isles Golf Club. You may pick your own partner.

Final plans were made for the St. Stanislaus Sideline Fair to be held May 5 and 6 at S.S.C. The fair gets bigger and bigger each year. New games will be added for the enjoyment of both young and old. Attend and bring the family and in so doing you can help a worthy cause. The Sideline will be a busy bunch. Great prizes are to be awarded. Eat, drink and be merry.

Jack Nicklaus the greatest golfer did it again by winning his fourth victory in the Tournament of Champions. He beat Lee Trevino by a one stroke lead. It reminds us of the old saying, "Once a champion always a champion."

If one wants to live to a ripe old age, keep away from the old rocking chair; don't let it get you down. For something to do after retirement, go fishing, make your own fly baits and plugs. There are thousands of tackle stores where equipment and instructions can be secured for constructing baits of your own liking and which will catch fish.

Try making baits. It is a good pastime and a lot of fun. Catching fish on a home-made bait is something to be proud of. Ask those who make 'em.

Still can't give anything about anyone catching soft crabs. Was informed by some of our ardent soft crabbers, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Griffith of Waveland, Henry Land, Teddo Thomas, John Scalfide, Jr., and others that the crabs are not giving. The reason, don't know, unless it is the weather conditions. There will still be time for soft crabbing. They, like flounders, can be caught all summer.

Be a good sport. When seeing all wild animals, rabbits, deer, turkeys etc., stranded by high water, protect them. Give them a break, it will pay off later.

News From
Hancock General Hospital

REV. BERNARD WALTON, pastor of the Main St. United Methodist Church welcomes visitors Saturday to the opening of the church's newly-completed education building on S. Second St. The opening of the building was followed by a picnic on the church grounds. (Echo staff photo by Marleen Maher)

Russell's Main Goal: Curbing Drug Abuse

John Russell was almost killed as a result of participation in a medically-conducted drug abuse experiment when he was a medical student in New York. From that experience, he says he vowed to bend all his efforts as a physician toward the control of drug abuse.

A native of Boston, Dr. Russell was an accomplished musician before he became a doctor, and was judged Composer of the Year in 1953 by the New England Conservatory of Music.

He was graduated from Boston University in 1956 and received his medical degree from New York Medical College four years later, followed by a two-year residence at Somerville Hospital in Massachusetts.

Although a general practitioner for the past 11 years in Gulfport, Dr. Russell has devoted an extensive amount of time to narcotics related training and practices. He has attended drug abuse seminars in locations all over the country including New Orleans, Boston, New York City, San Francisco and last year, completed a course in drug abuse at the Department of Psychiatry, University of Miami School of Medicine.

His work with hard-core addicts at Metropolitan Hospital in New York gave him valuable early training in the effects of drug abuse.

Since 1962 Dr. Russell has been director of the crime laboratory for city and Harrison County law enforcement agencies, as well as police surgeon and drug abuse specialist for the Gulfport Police Department.

He became director of the Mississippi Drug Abuse Center in Gulfport in 1971 and this past January, gave up his private medical practice to work full time to developing the Center facilities. The intake and information Center is now located at Dr. Russell's former medical clinic building on Broad Ave. and activities are correlated between the Center and the Catacombs, the rehabilitation clinic not far from the Center.

A man of intense vitality and personal charisma, Dr. Russell said that he first came to the Mississippi Gulf Coast in 1962, there was no drug problem as he had expected. However, in a short time the problem developed and grew, as rapidly and insidiously on the Coast as it was in the rest of the country.

A recent statistical report shows a one thousand per cent increase in drug abuse over the past ten years in the United States and the figure seems to be increasing proportionately on the Gulf Coast.

Last year, only one heroin addict came through the Center but in the first month of this year, Dr. Russell said 116 young adults were admitted to the Center, all on hard drugs. Recognizing the urgent need for a public facility geared to the prevention and rehabilitation of drug abusers as well as for the dissemination of accurate information, Russell expanded the original Center into a full-time all encompassing operation, which now services 18 South Mississippi counties.

Partially funded through a Law Enforcement Assistance Division grant, the Center and the Catacombs are open to the general public, absolutely free of charge. The L.E.A. grant is administered through Harrison County Family Court, with which Russell works in close cooperation. The Center staff is composed of four full-time salaried administrators and two part-time salaried staffers. An additional staff of 26 workers are all volunteers. Another 17 volunteers, ranging in age from older teenagers to grandmothers, are attending the 15-week training course required of all Center workers.

Dr. Russell speaks gratefully of financial gifts from parents and donations from several local organizations and businesses which have helped to relieve the increasing financial burden of the Center operation.

"We have to keep this Center and the Catacombs free," he said, "because often the people who need us the most can least afford to pay."

Another problem has developed through increased patronage of the Center. A half-way house, or residence center is badly needed to house those young people in the rehabilitation program who have nowhere to go. They come voluntarily, or are brought by the police, or probated by Family Court, to the Catacombs, desperately sick and damaged by hard drug use. Often they have no homes and no money and if left to their own devices before effective rehabilitation can be accomplished, they return to the street and drug abuse. The Russells and several members of the Center staff have taken some into their own homes on a temporary basis, but this is an unsatisfactory arrangement at best.

The hope is that city and county governments, and perhaps the state, will recognize the vital importance of the work being accomplished at the Center within their own jurisdictions, and in some part support the facility, the only one of its kind in the state of Mississippi.

All who participated in the egg hunt Saturday seemed to enjoy the event. Maybe next year we can talk the Bunny into hiding a few eggs for the adults!

When still fishing for perch it is best to use small hooks, a small cork and sinker for best results. Perch have a small mouth. When they hit the bait let them go. It is just a matter of bringing 'em in.
